

“And even the very hairs on your head are numbered.” Matthew Chapter 10 verse 30.

Scarlett, you were born to us on November 15, 2008 complete with a full head of hair. There were many hairs on your head to be counted. The exact number? I do not know. Only He knows. God knew you before He sent you to us. God created you and has watched you grow from your most infant stage, to this very moment, and He will be there watching over you until the end. For you He has crafted a story that will be yours to discover, yours to pursue, yours to realize. He has brought you life and given you the talents only you possess, and a purpose that can only be yours, and the capacity to know that you are capable of realizing your true destiny no matter how great or how small.

Scarlett, we have known you now for six whole years and you are a wonderful child. We can already see that you are quiet, observant, and very artistic. You are also introverted and shy. But we see you making your way. And you can do this because God gave you the capacity to shine in your own way. We know that sometimes you may be frightened but we want you to know that you don't have to be. Today we are asking you to accept Jesus into your heart. We are asking that you let yourself know that he is there taking every step with you and that if there are moments when you feel alone know that you are not alone. Jesus will be there with you. Whispering to you, and always encouraging you to live a happy and fulfilling life. Allow Him to come through when the steps you take are light and full of happiness. Allow Him to come through when life seems to be to overwhelming for you. He will be there for you and you will know this if we teach you this. And teach you we will. For God's love and grace is yours if you are ready to accept it, if you are ready to act out your love of Him through worship and by following His commandments. Our wish and prayer for you today is that you accept Christ into your heart, that you find a friend in him, that you find love for Him and for yourself, and that you share this love with others.

Love,
Mom and Dad
